

Bigyanananda Mission

Lenin Roy

The mission believes in peace and happiness. The mission believes in the inherent cravings of individual person for peace and happiness. The mission also believes individual is the source of peace and happiness.

The mission recognizes in the potentialities of an individual. Each and every individual is responsible for the atmosphere prevailing in the society. His attitude towards life would also influence and reflect the atmosphere and character of the society, because each and every individual is a part of his family, community and its society.

Therefore, each and every constituent of the society is responsible for the formation of the society and its environment. Each and every individual has obligation to do or contribute for the benefit of the society. The obligation is the return against the benefit taken by him from his society, as man can not live without society.

Our Mission is formed and constituted in building and making the society into such formation where people can breath the wind of peace and happiness. To implement its object the Mission believes in the individual upliftment to look beyond the limit of personal interest only to a little extent with the view keeping in mind that he has an obligation to return some benefit to the society as because he had being social, already borrowed a large amount of benefit from the society. Further, the constituent of the society (individual) should respect human values and follow the norms of ethics which alone would expedite in bringing peace and happiness in this society. If this society is peaceful and full of happiness, well, you can not be without it.

This can happen only when the atmosphere of the society is made free from impurities. Impurities because there is a total decline and degeneration in holding the character, a total loss of human values, loss of mutual respect and other norms of ethics (all these are not foreign - once it all existed).

The present day atmosphere prevailing is the whole world is more or less same, that is society of impurities - that is full of selfish spirit and adoption of the philosophy based on so-called matter and nature only.

The present day condition of the society is needless to emphasize. Only it is pointed out that life has become miserable and victim of evils. People at large are under the influence of "might is right" ideals causing complete eradication of human values, ethics and morals. The result is horrible.

The custodian of laws and administration are corrupt to the maximum level. Violence and terrors are let loose over the society. Killing a man is not condemned - it has become a normal feature. Nobody cares to bother about it because of fear and oppression. Evil has become master of good. Social environment is totally spoiled. Because of the supremacy of 'Evil' prevailing over the society for last several years man has forgotten the 'good' characteristics and the "rules of right." Let us take the instance of killing. Do you have the right to kill a person?

Let us examine the proposition, namely, whether a man has the right to kill a person. Now, if you are capable to give back his life then you have the right to kill a person. If not, you have no right to kill a person. In the case of taking a life of a person, when you know that you are not capable to give him back his life then how can you take (kill) the life of a person? You have no right to take life of a person.

Now, when you borrow money you know that you can refund the amount with interest. In that case, you can borrow from others as you are, at least, capable to refund the same. Whereas to take life of a person you are not capable to return the life. Therefore, you have no right to kill a person.

The task of our Mission is to divert the direction of the prevailing atmosphere of our society. Our mission is to restore human rights, human values, morals and ethics by which an atmosphere would be brought in the society where people live without fear, favour and threats of intimidation.

This can be achieved only by increasing number of people living in the society having confidence and faith in human rights, human values, morals and ethics. You must come forward and look beyond your self-interest for achieving peace and happiness.

Our Mission believes with firm conviction in the progress and prosperity of human life. We believe a man has the right to lead a life of his choice with peace and happiness. Then, why we can not breath freely in peace and happiness? Why so much sorrows and sufferings have grabed the people at large? Why there should be such a disparity and differences between man and man? Why there is exploitation and extortion leading a life miserable? Why life is taken like killing insects?

Where lies the solution of the present problem of the society? Why people are suffering so much and that pains my heart. In giving answer to those queries my Master (Thakur Bigyanmancha Maharaj) told me that the degeneration of human character has yielded the present situation in the society ["চরিত্রের অবনতি এর কারন"]. This dialogue was held in the year 1953. A.D. at Bhowanipore.

Meanwhile I have traversed forty six years of my life - path and closely watched the developments in the degeneration of character of people in the society and in the whole world.

These years have brought further degeneration and wiped out the human moral values from our day to day life.

During these fortysix years I have also watched how my Master left His Holy WORDS OF TRUTH on this earth to work in giving benefit to the people and their society, countries, and the entire world by reviving the mutual respect between man and man, the values of honesty, integrity and humane values.

Under the umbrella of His Grace it would not be very difficult for a person to rise above the present order of the society and work for the welfare of the people by following the path of peace and happiness. The TRUTH is working on its own footing. What is required from you is to pursue the path of progress for the welfare of the people and in doing so you shall not find any difficulties in walking on the path of TRUTH.

Our MISSION is a social welfare organization. The welfare of the society depends upon its constituents - the individual person and his attitude towards life. The mission believe with firm conviction in the progress and prosperity of human life - his rightful claim to live in peace and happiness.

The mission is working amongst the people to direct them to move in the proper path of life to achieve those objectives. The Mission is aware of the task - the task to move against the current of the present and therefore the task is very very heavy. Since the year 1967 A.D. our Mission is looking forward to achieve it for the society. Now, there is some movement in that direction of peace and happiness against the heavy current of immoralities and untruth.

We also believe that individual peace and happiness can not go without his social environment. This is vice-versa. It is easy and better for him to work in the proper direction which will definitely inflame his environment. It depends upon the overall upliftment in building character of individuals.

We believe that means gets the end. This logic is very simple. If your means is violence the end is destruction by violence. You can never achieve peace and happiness through the means of violence and shall fail to bring welfare to the society.

Truth begets Truth. If your means of life is based upon the truth, that is footings of truth, in that case you shall reach to the end of truth, that is, beyond the relative truth.

I am calling you to awake and rise above the prevalent atmosphere. You shall move on the path of truth without fear and favour. Be not afraid. You can safely depend upon truth. Dependence upon the truth shall yield and give the strength to withstand the spoiled current of the society. If you walk through the path of truth, it shall lead you to peace and happiness. The book 'The Object of Life' contains how one can pursue the path of truth, how to build one's character etcetra was published by our Mission in the year 1973-74.
